POLICE NAB DONATI ON 'BOOKIE' CHARGE

Stites Report Due At Monday Meet

The fate of City Manager Howard Stites will probably be decided Monday night when a lengthy report on Stites' resignation from the manager's position in Burbank will be delivered by City Attorney Frank Blum.

Blum was directed to Burbank by the council last week after publication of an article in Coronet magazine, which mentioned Stites in telling of an alleged crime clean-up in Burbank.

Blum spent Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week going over crime commission records and conferring with former and present city officials and state and Burbank crime commission members.

Late this week the attorney was still studying the transcript of the 1953 Burbank citizens crime prevention committee, and said he had 400 pages yet to read before he could start preparing his report to the council.

Monday's session will be attended by the council and members of the press only, and will not be opened to the general public, although the proceedings are expected to be made public record, with exception of some information obtained by Blum in confidence.

Blum said he still had not decided how much of the overall information he would be able to include in his report. Because of the vast amount of data, he said, he might just condense the information and give references where councilmen could find further information.

The Coronet article was immediately held up by City Treasurer Paul Selmi, leader of the recall movement, as evidence that Stites was not competent to hold his job here.

Stites answered in a statement to the press that the Burbank council which requested his resignation was the body of officials being investigated by the crime commission.

He also pointed out that, "It was I who forced the resignation of the then chief of police, Elmer Adams, for his refusal to testify before the crime commission."

DOELGER OFFERS LINCOLN SCHOOL SITE -- $125,000

Henry Doelger has offered to sell the Abraham Lincoln school site to the Jefferson elementary school district for $125,000, it was revealed today by Superintendent H. Z. Weibel. The amount is $11,000 less than the original asking price of $136,000.

Acceptance of the offer still waits approval of the board of trustees who are expected to consider the matter at their next meeting on Wednesday.

District's purchase of the site is also contingent upon an okay from the state, announcement of which will probably be delayed until completion of soil tests. Trustees voted at their last meeting to approve expenditure of $700 for tests after Consultant Tom Thompson advised that a "look at the contour map would strike fear into any engineer."

In commenting on the price, Weibel said today: "We feel very satisfied with the offer, especially when it is known that the site could have sold for more to other buyers."

Negotiations on the site cost were held Thursday between Doelger, B. Poncetta, Weibel, Trustee Hartley Appleton and Business Superintendent David Shapiro.

Completion of the kindergarten through sixth grade school is expected in the Fall of 1957, Weibel said. The school will include from 10 to 12 rooms besides the kindergarten.

Census Here May 28; See 30,000 Plus

A special census that is expected to show Daly City's population in excess of 30,000 has been scheduled to start May 28, THE RECORD learned.

L. C. Isley, acting regional supervisor from the bureau of census in Los Angeles, contacted City Manager Howard Stites by phone yesterday and said the special population count would be started May 28.

The city council had asked for the special census earlier this year, but had expected it would be later in the summer before the bureau could send its staff here, since two other San Mateo county cities have censuses in progress.

According to Stites, the census may show Daly City with a population as high as 30,800. This will mean approximately $77,000 a year in new revenue for the city in the form of state subventions, figuring $11 per capita for each new resident.

Approximately two weeks prior to the census, the city will advertise for citizens to act as enumerators, Stites said.

Daly City's last special census, held in 1954, listed Daly City's population at 23,951.

A population of 30,800 would maintain Daly City as fourth largest in the county, behind San Mateo, Redwood City and South San Francisco, in that order.

Results of the special census here are expected to be available before July 1, Stites estimated, making it possible for the city to file its new population count with the secretary of state before the next fiscal year starts July 1.

The special census will cost the city approximately $4000.

COUNCIL TABLES CASBAH REQUEST ON 1 A.M. DANCING

Third request by John Porter Trimble, owner of the Casbah, 6192 Mission street, that he be allowed to extend dancing past the 1 a.m. deadline was tabled Monday night by the city council.

In addressing the council Trimble pleaded that enforcement of the city ordinance limiting dancing until 1 a.m. is placing a "financial hardship" on him.

"You wouldn't have found anyone else opening a place like mine with the reputation this town had," he told the council.

When quizzed on this statement by City Manager Howard Stites, Trimble replied that the council "treats me just like the Hilltop." The Hilltop Lodge, to which he referred, was exposed as a hangout for narcotics users, according to findings by the state board of equalization during a hearing last year. Revocation of the Hilltop's liquor license is still under appeal.

Recommendation that the 1 a.m. dancing deadline be enforced has been forwarded the council by

Couple Held, Say He Ran Local Operation

At press time Thursday, an all-out police search was underway for Dino Donati, 19 Castlemont, the alleged leader of what was described as a large-scale bookmaking establishment here.

A warrant was issued for Donati's arrest this Thursday charging him with bookmaking and conspiracy of bookmaking, following upon a raid at a Daly City home Wednesday.

Donati, key figure in the 1955 hearing over firing of a Daly City police officer, was heard from by a bail bondsman Wednesday night following the raid, but could not be located despite an extensive police dragnet placed around the area.

Council Okays Survey On DC Water System

The city council Monday night approved a study on the Daly City water problem after Engineer Cyril Weiler reported that "water consumption is almost up to production" in the area.

Weiler revealed that San Francisco water was used twice last year during peak days when consumption exceeded production of water in Westlake. He emphasized, however, that the situation is "not alarming" at this point provided that steps are taken to keep pace with the growth of the city.

Daly City has an arrangement with San Francisco whereby standby service is provided at a minimum fee plus an additional cost for every 100 cubic feet of water used, Weiler explained.

The survey, which will probably be undertaken by a hydrologist already interviewed by Weiler and City Manager Howard Stites, is necessary for future planning on the water problem, the engineer declared.

Topics to be developed in the study include production, transmission, storage and distribution of water. A thorough survey of the water history of the area will be needed.

Besides the $600 per month expert hydrologist, a draftsman will also be hired.

Local Youth Arrested On Dope Count

A 20-year-old Daly City youth is scheduled to appear for preliminary hearing in a San Francisco courtroom Wednesday following his arrest last week on a charge of possession and transportation of narcotics.

Arrest of William Albert Brandt, 20, 473 Knowles avenue, was made last Tuesday near Third and Howard streets in San Francisco by George Ohlson and William Walker, state narcotics enforcement bureau agents.

Brandt's capture climaxed a six-month investigation of his activities by the narcotics bureau, according to A. J. Gazzola, who led the probe. The youth, a former marine, had dropped out of sight for the two months prior to his arrest, the agent said.

When he was spotted last Tuesday, Brandt was in a car with another youth and was rolling what appeared to be a marijuana cigarette, Gazzola reported.

The cigarette was taken as evidence and the car was impounded. Brandt's companion was released. Brandt was ordered released on his own recognizance to the custody of his father on the same day as his arrest. Wednesday's preliminary hearing is scheduled for Judge Theresa Underwood's court.

Donati, about 40 years old, lives at 19 Castlemont in the Westlake area with his wife and two adopted children.

Stakeouts were placed at all points known to be frequented by Donati, but up until 3 p.m. he still had not been located.

Issuance of a warrant for Donati's arrest followed by one day the apprehension of Marie Yvonne Hammel, 47, of 1171 Brunswick on charges of bookmaking, culminating one month's investigation by Daly City police, district attorney's office and internal revenue department.

At 4 p.m. this Thursday Dino Donati gave himself up at the Daly City police station. He was accompanied by his attorney, Thomas Jenkins.

He was booked on charges of bookmaking and conspiracy of bookmaking.

Donati, questioned by A. L. Lamport, deputy district attorney, said he had "no comment" regarding the charges against him.

He was expected to be released on $3000 cash bail.

Arrested simultaneously with Mrs. Hammel was her husband, Kenneth F. Hammel, who was picked up at Hunter's Point Naval Shipyard by Treasury men Clarence Leiter and William Brannan, and charged with failure to possess a $50 federal wagering stamp. Police say he operated an extensive bookmaking operation at the shipyard, where he is a planner and estimator in the plumbing division. Appearing in U. S. Commissioner Joseph Kares' court this Thursday, he was released on $1000 bond and scheduled to appear later this week.

Initial Raid

Police Chief Roland Petrocchi, Lt. Roy Beecher, Inspector Bruno Conci and Officer John Walsh joined with District Attorney Keith Sorenson and his aides, A. L. Lamport and Zachary Whitten, in making the initial raid Wednesday at 1 p.m. at the Hammel home.

Beecher said they found Mrs. Hammel upstairs taking bets on one of the phones in the home, and confiscated scratch sheets, markers, and extensive records covering the past several months play. Remaining on the premises four more hours, Beecher himself took $618 in bets over the phone, and the authorities estimated the average daily play at the home was about $1000. Sorenson said this was the "largest operation I've seen in the north county since I took office (two years ago)."

Mrs. Hammel, a cripple who gets around on crutches, was arrested on a charge of bookmaking that afternoon and released on $500 cash bail, posted by Wilbur Sunderland, who also put up the bond for her husband. Mrs. Hammel is scheduled to appear for arraignment in municipal court Tuesday morning.

"Worked For Donati"

During questioning by police, the woman told Beecher that it was Donati's bookie operation, and that she only worked for him on a weekly salary of from $75 to $100. Wednesday night police searched intensively but could not contact him, although Sunderland said he had spoken to Donati.

An entire slate of new officers is also expected to be named at the meeting.

ONE-CENT SALES TAX WOULD NET $223,700 IN DC

A one-cent sales tax, made optional in counties under recent state legislation, would bring Daly City an estimated $223,700 in its first year of existence, according to figures released today by the state board of equalization.

The state board estimated that in 1956 the one-cent levy would bring Daly City $223,700, and $312,200 in 1957.

Colma would receive $32,200 in 1956, $44,900 in 1957. San Mateo county supervisors have not yet acted on the sales tax, since they are waiting expression of opinion from individual cities. A sales tax ordinance must be adopted by the county by June 1 in order to take effect for this coming fiscal year.

Daly City council has not acted officially on the sales tax, although Councilman Michael de Bernardi has long been in favor of it.

Throughout the county, the sales tax would bring $3,064,700.

Clothesline Thief Strikes in Westlake Area Again

The Westlake clothesline thief struck again, this time taking $19.50 worth of unmentionables from off the clothesline of Mrs. C. Ames of 198 Southgate avenue sometime over the weekend, according to police reports.

Mrs. Ames reported she hung her washing out Saturday evening, and when she took it in Monday morning she found one slip, one brassiere and two pairs of panties missing.

Reduction Potential Controller and Recorder which controls pre-chlorination. Now you know.

Local politics are still wondering when JAMES McKAY of Broadmoor, Democratic candidate for Congress, is going to start campaigning.

Incumbent Congressman J. ARTHUR YOUNGER was once heard to say he would be so happy to see McKAY run against him that he'd pay McKAY's filing fee.

Apparently McKAY, however, feels he can win his party's nomination in the primaries, and can start his campaigning in earnest after that.

Probably the best fish story that came out of last weekend's trout season opening is a true one. At least my wife believed it.

After one day on the stream, this fisherman and two others left our rods and reels locked in the car and returned to find the auto had been broken into and the gear taken.

Thus, the trip was ended and an air-tight excuse was provided for not bringing home any fish.

This might sound like a fish story, but there's evidence to back it up: The previous night the town constable had his rod and reel stolen.

Municipal Judge THOMAS L. BOCCI has declared war on the county board of supervisors for failure to legislate for a superior court in South San Francisco.

Watch this battle... it promises to be interesting.

It's been about a year since Developer CHRIS McKEON announced his plans to subdivide the old Zanone property between Junipero Serra and Skyline into a 3000-home development.

Observers feel sure he wants the land annexed into Daly City, but is waiting until the local recall election is over before starting negotiations.

Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 154 held an investiture ceremony Saturday.

Girls invested were: Linda Quinteros, Karen Falk, Cynthia Lewin, and Geraldine Young. Mrs. Sumi Lemon addressed the group concerning life in Japan and Mrs. Jean Lewis told about England. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Troop 154 is planning a swimming party at the Jefferson High school pool on May 16.

COUNCIL REVIEWS CITY EMPLOYEE RETIREMENT PLAN

Consideration of increasing city employee retirement benefits was tabled by the city council Monday night until May 21 when councilmen are scheduled to meet with the personnel commission and representatives of the employees association.

If the council were to approve maximum benefits, additional cost to the city would probably exceed $25,580 per year, according to a study submitted by Coates, Herfurth and England, consulting actuaries. The $25,580 figure is based on present salaries, thus if employees gain a pay increase this year, cost would be substantially raised.

In taking action on amendments to the retirement law, the council will vote on the following possibilities:

1. Increase in retirement allowances payable to retired persons by applying to: (1) Prior service benefits of miscellaneous members equal to one sixtieth of final compensation upon service retirement at age 60 or its actuarial equivalent upon service retirement at age 55 or over, and (2) a guaranteed percentage of final compensation for each year of service as a local safety member. Estimated additional cost per year would be $37,519, of which $6,519 would be paid by the city.

2. Normal and minimum service retirement age for local firemen reduced from 55 to 50. Estimated cost would be $1,748.

3. Continuation of one-half of the service or industrial retirement allowance to certain dependents upon death of a retired safety member. (This benefit would automatically apply to safety members already retired.) Estimated additional cost would be $17,313.

Total of the three measures under this year's budget would be the aforementioned $25,580 to the city, while entire cost would reach $56,580.

The council must take action on the proposal before July 1 if members wish the change to go into effect. City Manager Howard Stites was therefore instructed to prepare a study of peninsula cities policy before the May 21 meeting.

Go To People

Only dissenter towards possible action by the council was Councilman Sanford Vickers who declared that the matter should be put to a vote of the people since expenditure of money is involved.

In other action Monday night the council:

1. Unofficially approved hiring an additional typist for the city manager's office on a temporary basis.

2. Agreed to help publicize spring cleanup by the Daly City Scavenger company to be held here May 21-26.

3. Heard Edmund Cavagnaro, chairman of the recreation commission, complain that the commission had not met for several weeks. Stites declared that he would be present at a meeting if Cavagnaro would call one.

Purse Snatcher Robs Tavern Owner Of $100

A woman tavern owner was robbed of $100 Friday afternoon by a bandit who scattered contents of his victim's purse on the sidewalk in his haste to get the money.

Police listed the victim as Ruby Anderson, owner of the Wit's End bar, 6057 Mission street. Mrs. Anderson told officers she was walking to the tavern when the man approached her, suddenly grabbed her waist and forced her to drop her purse. When the contents fell on the sidewalk, the culprit snatched the purse and money and fled. Mrs. Anderson related.

The purse was later found on Pierce and Sullivan streets by two boys.

ROBERT EVANS IS NEW DALY CITY BUYER

Robert Grant Evans, 49, of 104 Santa Barbara avenue, Daly City, took over duties this week as buyer for City of Daly City.

William FitzPatrick, who has held the $4500 a year position since last year, leaves the job today.

Evans, formerly in construction and landscape estimating, finished high among six applicants competing for the buyer job.

Active in Boy Scout work, he is married and has four children, three of them married.

plaint charging Donati with bookmaking and conspiracy to commit bookmaking was signed by Beecher and a warrant for his arrest was issued.

The lieutenant said Mrs. Hammel was only a "front" for Donati, who supervised the operation by phone.

Beecher said during the time he was taking bets after the raid, one of the callers was Donati.

Donati was the alleged "known gambler" whom Daly City Police Inspector David Johnstone was charged with associating last March, resulting in the dismissal of the inspector. Johnstone appealed and, during the several lengthy public hearings that followed, Donati appeared to heckle the witnesses and verbally attack the district attorney. Donati has no previous record of bookmaking.

According to Sorenson, many of the persons who called while Beecher was manning Mrs. Hammel's phone were not players, but runners or collectors who were part of the operation.

"Further Arrests"

Sorenson said "We may make further arrests." He also indicated the officers "have other evidence" against Donati in addition to the testimony of Mrs. Hammel. Sorenson said "I'm not at liberty to say what it is."

Sorenson said the "excellent records" of bookmaking kept by Mrs. Hammel would be "of great assistance to us." He said the journals included records of daily play, monthly income and the expenditures of Mr. and Mrs. Hammel.

Lt. Beecher said Daly City police and the district attorney's office had been watching the Hammel home for about a month.

The Hammels have lived at the Brunswick address since 1955, but neither has a previous record, although Beecher said Hammel was in trouble at the shipyard several times over alleged bookmaking.

Beecher said Mrs. Hammel readily admitted to taking book, "on and off for the past year," and immediately implicated Donati as the boss of the operation. A spokesman for the internal revenue department said investigations would be made to determine whether Mrs. Hammel and Donati would be charged with failure to possess the $50 wagering stamp.

Yesterday Sorenson commented on the "excellent cooperation of the three law enforcement agencies in making the very successful raid simultaneously."

DON'T GAMBLE WITH $4,000,000

Ten people with $4,000,000 to spend every year! Sounds a little fantastic, doesn't it? But that's approximately how much the 10 trustees of the two local school districts are responsible for every year.

Sometimes the enormity of the school operations escape citizens, what with hotly-contested council races, recall threats hurled by ambitious politicians, and controversial issues on the floor of the council chambers.

Schools seem serene by comparison, but this contrast shouldn't lull citizens into apathy...although apparently it has.

The two local school districts combined are spending nearly four times the amount spent each year by the City of Daly City.

And the $4,000,000 they're spending isn't placed in their hands by some munificent entity who stands by to see that children's educational needs are met—these many millions are yours.

So apathetic are many of the citizens over the workings of their schools, that they believe the city government is responsible for the educational system.

But just as the five councilmen are accountable for the city's governmental actions, so are the five trustees who set policy and govern each of the school districts.

Campaigning is generally light in school district elections, for what reason we know not.

On May 18 about one-tenth of the citizens eligible will go to the polls to pick Jefferson Elementary School district and Jefferson High School district trustees.

There are five persons seeking two elementary school posts. Three are seeking the one high school trusteeship that is vacant.

We would wager that few persons could at this moment name all of the persons contesting for the trusteeships, and some probably couldn't name any of them.

And yet the people placed in these positions will be spending millions of your tax dollars yearly and, more important, will be responsible for guiding the destiny of your children.

While education is paramount, the all-important ratio between dollars spent and results attained must be considered. The taxpayers do not have untold wealth to spend on the absolute optimum in facilities.

The people who are elected to the school boards on May 18 will carry the burden of seeing that you are receiving the maximum for your tax dollar.

And a major investment should require a little investigation beforehand.

Don't speculate and "play hunches."

ASK GIFTS FOR FORGOTTEN MOTHERS AT LAGUNA HONDA

Dear Sir:

Here I go again pleading and appealing to the hearts of the people. Out of the 1750 old folks at Laguna Honda home a large group are mothers without any living relatives. Most of them have no friends or money. Another large number are helpless sick and crippled mothers in infirmiry wards.

When they see others receiving gifts on Mothers' Day, it will be indeed sad and heartbreaking. I don't believe the people want that to happen.

Mother's Day will soon be here and may I suggest items that are practical and badly needed. I will be happy to deliver gifts on Mothers' Day to these terribly unfortunate forgotten mothers.

Suggested items: facial tissues, soap, cologne, talcum powder, perfume, stationary, ball point pens, shawls, sweaters, bed jackets, scarfs, books, felt slippers, candy, cookies, etc.

Sincerely,
Herb Goldsmith,
Powell Hotel,
17 Powell street

HUPF THANKS RECORD FOR CAMPAIGN SPACE

Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

For myself and for my committee I wish to express my gratitude for the space which you provided to me and to other candidates during the recent campaign for City Councilman. I believe that a distinct public service was provided enabling all of the candidates to express their platform.

I am sure that my election was due in no small measure to the opportunity which was presented by means of the weekly platform statements in your paper.

Thank you once again.

Very truly yours,
Patl M. Hupf

CCPT PUBLICITY HEAD SENDS THANKS 'FOR COOPERATION'

Dear Mr. Dayton:

I would like to thank you for your continued cooperation throughout this past year in using Seventeenth District publicity releases in the Times.

Your help in making news of district activities available to PTA units in this area has done a great deal towards enabling the district to be of greater service to local groups, and to bring those groups closer together through common interests.

As north district publicity chairman, I am particularly grateful to you for the idea of having publicity conferences in small groups together with the editor of the particular local newspaper involved, and the reaction to the series of workshops held in the north district this past year has been most favorable, both from the units and from the district.

May I add my personal thanks also for helping make my publicity task such a pleasant one, and for providing a great deal of help all along the line. It has been a privilege knowing and working with you.

Sincerely,
Mrs. John D. Mitchell,
North District Publicity Chairman, 17th District,

Cops Arrest SF Man At Home Of Ex-Wife

A 46-year-old leather worker was charged with disturbing the peace and with being drunk in a public place Sunday night after police said they were called to the scene of a fight at the home of his ex-wife.

Officers arrested George L. Cannon, 46, of San Francisco, at Mrs. Cannon's home, 33 Hillcrest drive. The fight was between Cannon and Edward Garrett, police said.

A pint bottle of whiskey was found in the arrested man's pocket and was taken as evidence. Cannon is now free on $50 bail.

Village Notes

By Gwin Mitchell

PL 5-0679

Most of the parental Villagers took time to go back to school this past week and watch their children in classes of various sorts. Wonder how many found themselves contrasting the bright, pastel-walled rooms with the brown paneled ones in schools 20-30 years ago—or is that a too dim past? Highlight of our visits was hearing a group of kindergartners sing "She'll Be Comin' Round the Mountain" with gestures and sound effects, to say nothing of watching them dance a mean Hokey-Pokey!

There was a young man—Tommy Frates—who lived on a hill—Larchmont—who had a birthday the other day. It was his fourth one, which, as anyone knows, is very special, so he invited some guests to share his cake and ice cream and to help him enjoy his day. Guests were Davy and Janie Boyd, Danny and Laurie Cullen, Eileen Kramer, Dougie Helgeson, and Mark Martin.

Something that hasn't been in the news for a while—a Tupper party. Terry Viganò on Maddux gave one recently, and Millie Esposito, Betts Doyle, Marilyn Hartman, Jean Proctor, Lois Swanson, Myra Centanni, Mary Haymaker, Sally Cuneo, Henrietta Politi, Frances Charlo, Ernesta Gozzoli and Anita Martinovich spent a pleasant time together looking, buying and talking.

Travel Bug Hits

Everybody seems to be getting travel-happy these days. Latest expeditioner is Sidney Tutti of Edgeworth, who, with his friend, William Cumberland, is planning a stay of two months or so in England. An Englishman by birth, he hasn't been back there for 47 years, and is looking forward to seeing old friends and all the familiar places he remembers. The two gentlemen are having quite a trip, as they are sailing from New York on the USS United States, and will have their own car for touring from the minute they step ashore at Southampton. Seems the AAA arranges such car rentals for travelers abroad. One of the special things Mr. Tutti and Mr. Cumberland plan to do is see the Derby, and they probably have a long list of others. Bon voyage and happy times!

Then there is Haldane Cash-dollor, who just returned home to Foothill from Hawaii—just in time to take his cub scouts to a ball game! For all that it was a business trip, there were some plus touches, such as being the only civilian at the captain's table on the MSTs ship going over. (Wife Gladys says the menu was terrific!) Like nearly everyone else who has been there, Haldane says Hawaii was beautiful, and even though it rained, it was still beautiful in between showers. He managed to get in a swim or two at Waikiki, too. With all this traveling everybody else is doing, isn't there room for a foreign correspondent's column?

Double Birthdate

Two young ladies share a birthday—the date, that is, Wanda Chivere of Maddux was 3 years old on April 26, the same day that Lynn MacCarthy of Sweetwood was 5. Wanda had a joint party with another friend in SF the weekend before. Friend Sandra Brinke was 2 and the girls shared a large cake a la Mickey Mouse, with their families as guests. Then on the 26th, Wanda had friends Chrissie and Nancy Mitchell over for cake and ice cream. Lynn had her party the following weekend, with Christy Hill, Chrissie Park, Donna Whitney, Susan Murphy, and cousins Sandy and Bev MacCarthy as guests to share the games and birthday fun.

As long as the 26th is in the spotlight, it was also the birthday of one of our Village mothers, Jean Proctor. So her sister, Marilyn Hartman, who lives next door to Jean on Maddux, invited friends and neighbors Mary Haymaker, Martha Rogers, Terry Viganò, Betts Doyle and Helga Giesecke over for a coffee-and-cake session.

These days Meredith Orloff, Helene Mori and Jean Cyr are quite busy taking care of the thousand-and-five things which must be done in preparation for the free concert that comes up on May 8 at the DC War Memorial building. The DC Recreation department and the Vista Grande Concert Association are sponsoring it together, and the star performers will be the SF State College A Cappella Choir. It will be a concert well worth everyone's while to attend—and enjoy.

We were glad to hear that Lamont Sundman is back home on the Village Lane after a sojourn in the hospital... and sorry to hear that Ernie and Vicki Garcia, of the 87th street younger set, have mumps.... Golf pro John Geertsen and his family have deserted Nim-tits drive for down-the-peninsula territory.... How many of you have seen that small three-wheeled car around—the one which looks like a sort of junior helicopter minus blades and tail? It's quite a thing on a miles-per-gallon basis, and would be perfect for a second car, the one to take to the office.

Common Ground

What do Aida Larsen, Mike and Dorothy Orlich, Betty Bullen, Merrill Baxley, Mary Hess, Ann St. Clair, Mary Schneider, Margaret Swedberg, Ilene Rice, Lorraine Lee, Maurine Guymon, Vera Erickson, Mickie Magnusson, Evelyn Churchwell, Barbara Subke, Marguerite Smith, George Warner, Irvin Cohen, Gloria Cauchi and Gale Galusha have in common? They are all chairmen and committee heads and assistants on the board of the James L. Snell PTA for the coming year, that's what, and there should be some more names on this august list soon!

Our Town was duly represented at the Pebble Beach road races by Bill Rice, who worked as one of the officials, and Jean and Arthur Frisch, who watched them. Art was really there for his job's sake, too, as he is a Chronicle photographer and was busy getting pictures. Said pictures also included the Concours d'Elegance at Del Monte. 89th street is feeling very plush indeed these days!

Happy birthday to Helen Mackintosh, den mother extraordinary of Washington street. She shared a birthday date with us this past week, as did Mrs. Marjorie Howe, Corinne Bryce's mother. We would like to wish Mrs. Howe happy birthday, too, for one April 25-er to another.

Two For Tonight

By Leonora Brewer

At the Curran the other night, the San Francisco Civic Light Opera strode off toward a triumphant 19th annual season in "Silk Stockings." The stockings have a few runs here and there and the legs that fill them aren't as svelte as they might have been, but they are flashy legs and if you are young enough to be diverted by such things and old enough to grasp some of the naughty lines, well, you'll find the evening slipping by very pleasantly.

Peter Boroff (Philip Sterling) prominent Soviet composer, has come to Paris to arrange for his serious composition about a tractor to be used in a film based on "War and Peace." This shambling Russian bear has tarried too long, so Leon Janney, Leon Belasco and David Opatoshu arrive at his hotel to take him back to Moscow. One look at Paris and this trio starts right in to live it up.

Chemical Reaction

So, Ninotchka (Jan Sherwood) an eager-beaver party member with a long record of success in difficult cases is sent to bring them all home. Completely without humor and looking upon love as "a chemical reaction, that's all," Ninotchka is unprepared for the enticements of Paris and the chemical reaction that happens instantaneously between her and Steve Canfield (Don Ameche) a talent agent.

We're sorry, but despite the combustible qualities of Miss Sherwood and Ameche's suave charm, this experiment in elementary chemistry, with its obvious conclusion, failed to ignite our interest. However, the surrounding cast keeps the show going at such a pace that you hardly notice that the love interest never does reach critical mass.

There is the Commissar (George Tobias) recently promoted from fisheries and wildlife to cultural beat, who bears a remarkable resemblance to you know who, and there are some hilariously funny bits by the aforementioned quartet of truant from the people's paradise.

Great Future

Then there's Gretchen Wyler as a movie star more accustomed to acting in swimming pools than interpreting Tolstoy. She's not too certain what "War and Peace" is all about, but one thing she knows for sure: if she's going to act in it, it's going to have to be a musical in "technicolor, cinema-scope and stereophonic sound."

Ideological jokes come thick and fast, but the prize line is delivered in the last scene, when Ameche tells Tobias that the latter could have a great future in America, he could write a book, "I Was a Communist." He should have added that he could also lecture in a prominent Eastern university.

SIGNATURES ON RECALL PAPERS HIT BY CITIZENS

With only two weeks remaining before a special election May 15, the Citizens Committee Against Recall has swelled to more than 200 active members and hundreds of others who have expressed their opposition to "boss politics."

This week the committee publicly deplored the manner in which signatures were gained to force the recall election.

In a prepared statement, the committee declared, "We have made personal inquiry right to the homes of the people who signed the petition for recall, and the information gained has been astounding. Misrepresentation was widespread. The people were not told that they were signing petitions to remove three councilmen. They were told varied and sundry stories, ranging from the claim that the citizen could not vote at the general election unless he signed the petition, to the assertion that by signing the recall petition, some employee might get his job back."

The committee went on to point out that, "These tactics are typical of the element which is working for recall. That is why it is of utmost importance that citizens rally together to protect their rights and their city government."

In urging an overwhelming "No" vote against recall May 15, the committee said that by so doing, "You will reject the political bossism which threatens to regain a foothold in this city." Quoting from an editorial appearing in THE RECORD last week, the committee said, "If the recall is successful, government in Daly City will be set back 20 years."

"Not only is the recall election costing the taxpayers $4000 without any justification," the committee continued, "but it has resulted in widespread adverse publicity for Daly City absolutely without cause."

TELEVISION AND RADIO VERSUS READING... Currently there seems to be quite a controversy as to whether or not television and radio has affected the amount of time spent in reading. There are those who maintain that people just don't read newspapers and books to the extent that they used to... and then there are those who feel television and radio has encouraged people to read more.

The national YWCA has just completed an extensive questionnaire on major interests of girls and young women which included questions on reading, television and radio.

On Tuesday of this week, the ABC network featured a special half-hour broadcast by news commentator John McVane on the national results of the survey. The San Francisco YWCA participated in the survey and the results have just been announced. A total of 585 questionnaires were tabulated. The results obtained represent an excellent cross section of bay area women which covered both members and non-members of the YWCA, teenagers, single girls, housewives, women in industry and women who worked in offices.

In answer to the question, "What do you do for self-improvement?" 437 answered reading. On the question, "What's your first choice for fun?" only 47 out of the total marked watching television. On the question, "How do you keep posted on world affairs?" 455 marked newspaper reading, 384 indicated radio and 253 TV newscasts.

In analyzing the survey we must come to the conclusion that although radio and television are very popular, reading still seems to occupy the majority of leisure time. We are convinced that both television and radio stimulate people to read more, and with the intelligent use of all the media at our disposal, we should all become better informed individuals.

TEENAGE CORNER... A First Award by the 1956 American Exhibition of Educational Radio and Television Programs has just been given to "Time for Youth" (KRON-TV, Saturdays, 12 noon). The program which is designed to present a well balanced picture of what Northern California teenagers are doing and thinking is produced by the youngsters themselves with general supervision by the California Youth Association.

In talking to Julie Olsen who has conducted interviews and assisted in the production of the series, we found her to be a most competent and enthusiastic young lady. In part the citation for the awards read, "For giving youth a chance to speak for itself, rather than having youth give parrot-like answers to questions devised and scripted by adults." With the production of the show in the hands of such capable youngsters we can well understand why the program was so honored.

Treasurer Speaks For Recall, Cites Popularity At Polls

The people of Daly City have just been subjected to a campaign of deception and distorted information and of name calling to gain the favor of the electorate.

I would like to point out a very significant import shown by the election on a popularity basis.

The results of the election shows that I received 2,006 votes as against 933 received by our Mayor in the original Daly City. It is particularly significant because both he and I spent practically all of our lives here and are equally well known to the people who have resided here long enough to appraise our standing and accomplishments in our community. The above figures give me a better than two to one favorable expression of confidence by the people who have had time to know us, because of their longer period as residents of Daly City.

Now the recall election campaign is in progress and there is a continuation of name calling and misinformation being released to the people. Why are these tactics being used? Is it because they were successful to a degree in the recent election, to fool some of the people? I like the wisdom expressed by Abraham Lincoln regarding fooling some of the people some of the time, but not all of the people all of the time.

I don't think they will fool the people in the recall election. I don't think the people will believe statements being released by the Citizens Committee against the Recall. I will prove to anyone who sincerely wants the truth regarding the charges against those we seek to recall or regarding any of the disputes I had with the City Council. I'll prove to anyone who wants the truth regarding any of the controversies, that the charges are not as stated by the above mentioned Citizens Committee, nor that I have lost a single point of the above mentioned disputes.

As of this date the council have transferred the $10,000.00, nor have they ceased waving the taxpayers' money.

All during the just past election campaign I have refrained from calling names. My opponents resorted to name calling very lavishly. Why? Because they had no defense against the factual information released by me.

I could not have had a greater satisfaction than the satisfaction I received from the outstanding majority vote I received at the last election. I feel that I received the approval of the voters, as a result of receiving a majority of the total votes cast, for the principles I stand for as against those of my opponents.

My obligation as your City Treasurer has been fulfilled.

The success of the recall of the majority of the City Council will be decided on Tuesday, May 15. The decision now rests with you.

Two Juveniles Arrested On Car Boost Charges

Two South San Francisco juveniles admitted theft of a pair of hub caps from a parked 1956 sedan at San Bruno and W. Ca-vour streets Tuesday after they were arrested the same day, according to police reports.

Police, acting on the tip, picked up the two youths, who confessed, according to the report, Frank Armas, 18, of 250 Rio Verde street, who was in school at the time, reported the theft of the hub caps from his car.

Local Resident Arrested On Bad Checks Charge

A Daly City woman was arrested this Thursday morning by local police on a warrant involving two fictitious check charges and taken to northern judicial district court.

Bail for Audrey Jean Sudduth, 21, of 133 Westlake avenue, was set at $200 cash or $400 bond by Judge Thomas L. Bocci in accordance with the warrants.

Other than having youth give parrot-like answers to questions devised and scripted by adults." With the production of the show in the hands of such capable youngsters we can well understand why the program was so honored.

Another program on which teenagers deserve a bow was the special telecast of the Young People's Symphony Orchestra of the East Bay which was telecast live from the studios of KPIX which had loaned its facilities for this program and aired on KQED. As we watched the intent expressions on the faces of the young talented musicians who ranged in age from 10 to 17, and listened to the beautiful music... we could not help but feel we don't have to worry about the younger generation. We hope more stations will encourage teen-age participation in television programs.

Kenneth Spencer of San Gabriel, president of the California Congress, will welcome delegates to the first general session. Mrs. Edward T. Walker, Los Angeles, is chairman of the convention management committee, which has arranged for all general sessions to meet in the War Memorial Opera House.

Major addresses will be given by Dr. Frank Baxter of USC, television lecturer on English literature; Dr. Brock Chisholm, former director of the World Health Organization; Dr. Archibald J. Carey, Jr., vice-chairman of the President's Committee on Government Employment Policy; and Bergen Evans, author, lecturer, television moderator and professor at Northwestern University in Illinois.

In keeping with one of its objectives—the promotion of the welfare of children in home, church, school, and community—the PTA is offering an unusual feature at this year's convention. Delegates will see demonstrations of outstanding activity in the areas of health, juvenile protection, secondary education, parent and family life education, recreation and education of exceptional children. A panel of authorities on these subjects will discuss how local PTA units can adapt such activities to the needs of their own communities.

Seventeenth District, CCPT, will participate in one of the above special demonstrations.

BOCCI DECRIES D.A.'S STAND ON NORTH END COURT

Judge Thomas L. Bocci of northern district municipal court today took the county board of supervisors to task for failure to urge location of a superior court in South San Francisco.

In a letter to the board, he pointed out that state law requires sessions of superior court be held in cities with population in excess of 35,000 and at least 10 miles from the county seat.

District Attorney Keith Sorenson's interpretation of this law to the board was that part-time sessions would fulfill the law.

"Apparently the thinking of the district attorney is to find an 'out' to what the board considers a perplexing problem," Bocci declared.

Bocci held that part-time, or

Judge Bocci Speaks Before Colma PTA

President Mrs. Gino Marchetti presided over the first regular meeting of the Colma PTA for the year '56-'57 last Tuesday in the multi-purpose room at Jefferson elementary school. Mrs. George Bertucci read the character thought.

Vice president and program chairman, Mrs. Willie Gaston, presented Miss Marie Traynor, principal, who introduced Judge Thomas L. Bocci as the guest speaker. Topic was "Teamwork Helps Our Children to Maturity." He said, "many children have good behavior and plan to do good works, but it is the one out of fifty, a small minority, who do not conform to the usual pattern of social life. Perhaps the reason more cases are reported is because the population has grown so large."

He added, "a study is being made of how much responsibility will be charged the parents on account of their child's conduct either through negligence or criminal acts."

Many examples were used and a desire expressed to keep children busy as on farms in the country and employment in the city.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sorensen was one of the installing conductresses. Others attending were Mesdames: Ruth Bruetz, May Burgand, Mary Conti, Bonnie Ellenwood, Marjorie Johnson, Leona Lombardi, Catherine McKeown, Lena Pardini, Clara Poket, Josie Valenti, Pauline Valenti and Carol Pardini.

AMERICAN LEGION WOMEN PREPARE FOR POPPY DAY

Memory of those who gave their lives in defense of the United States will be honored here and throughout the nation on Poppy Day, May 25, by the wearing of America's memorial flower, the bright red poppy. Millions of Americans will wear the flower on that day as a personal tribute to the nation's war dead.

Plans for the local observance of Poppy Day are being completed under the direction of Mrs. P. D. Bordson, Poppy chairman of Daly City unit of the American Legion auxiliary. A large corps of volunteer workers is being organized to offer poppies on the streets throughout the day. Contributions will be received for the Auxiliary's work for disabled veterans and needy children of veterans.

The poppies which will be worn here have been made by disabled veterans at Fort Miley hospital. The flowers are crepe paper replicas of the wild European poppy, which bloomed in such profusion in the battle cemeteries in France and Belgium. This poppy was adopted by the American Legion and Auxiliary as the memorial flower for the World War I dead soon after the close of that war, and now has become the flower of memory for all of America's war dead of all wars.

SPREADING SUNSHINE—San Francisco branch No. 115, International Sunshine society, is devoted to philanthropic work. In cooperation with the visiting nurses association and the welfare board, members perform many services for persons in any kind of distress. Emphasis is placed on the fact that the group helps first and investigates afterwards. Shown here soaking up a different kind of sunshine are the following members,

Sunshine Society Women Do Philanthropic Work

Editor's note: This is the 23rd of a series of articles on local women's organizations. THE RECORD will feature one of the groups listed in our files each week.

San Francisco branch No. 115, International Sunshine society, is unique in the annals of area women's clubs in that it lists itself as a "purely philanthropic" group.

Policy of the national organization is to extend a helping hand, as far as money will permit, to those in any kind of distress, whether blind, crippled, aged, infirm, hungry or unfortunate. The group emphasizes the fact that its members help first and investigate afterwards. Founder of the organization, Cynthia Westover Alden, set forth the policy of the members in the following words: "Do something for somebody quick. Do the thing that is needed when it is needed, whether it be a little or a big task, as best you can."

Honors Mrs. Corbett
Branch No. 115 was founded on March 22, 1949, by Mrs. Earl Harold and Mrs. W. J. McLaughlin in honor of the latter's mother, Mrs. Alexandra Corbett, who had been active in philanthropic work. Mrs. A. Wallace, another charter member, is also a daughter of Mrs. Corbett.

The order is devoted to helping the individual, yet it frowns on the term "charitable" organization, because it recognizes that poverty is not the only unfortunate circumstance which might befall a person.

Members cooperate with the Visiting Nurses association and the Welfare board, which groups furnish names of persons who need help. Assistance by the Sunshine society includes such services as cashing pension checks, shopping, exchanging library books, and writing letters as well as giving material help to many individuals.

The branch also has a hospital bed, two wheel chairs and a stroller which are loaned out whenever needed without cost to the person helped.

Raise Money

Money for this work is raised through monthly card parties and luncheons and a yearly bazaar. Members contribute dues of $2 per year, and voluntary donations from non-members are also accepted.

Meetings of the organization are held at Lincoln Park clubhouse, 24th avenue and Clement street, San Francisco, on every fourth Thursday of each month. The fund raising luncheon and card game is held the third Thursday

SAFETY NEWS

By Inspector Henry Sunderman

Last year there were close to 51 million motor vehicles crowding the nation's streets and highways. Many of these vehicles brought death and injuries to thousands of men, women and children, suffered damages of more than 1 1/2 billions of dollars, and eventually wound up on the junk pile.

Statistics indicate that a number of vehicles involved in traffic accidents each year are found to have unsafe conditions which contributed to the accident. Apparently there are many drivers on our streets and highways today who are unaware of or who refuse to recognize the fact that they are driving a death trap, that they are leaving themselves wide open for traffic accidents when they continue to drive vehicles whose brakes, tires, lights, and other essential safety equipment need repair.

It is unfortunate that the true cause against inadequate vehicle maintenance and the role it plays in traffic accidents can not be fully presented because in many fatal accidents the car or cars involved are so badly smashed up that pre-existing repair needs cannot be determined.

Another thing is that in cases of non fatal accidents some investigators may not check and report the mechanical condition of the vehicle involved. It goes without saying that you cannot be safe in an unsafe car. Sooner or later you'll run into a situation in which your car will fail to meet the acid test.

If your brakes don't hold or your lights don't work or your steering mechanism goes on the blink, there is very little you can do to avoid an accident.

The motor vehicle is a complicated piece of machinery. It must be kept in perfect running order at all times if it is to be controlled by its driver, whose life and that of others may depend on the maximum efficiency of one or more of its parts. If one of them fails in the time of need because it is in poor condition, danger is unavoidable. And that is how traffic accidents statistics are made.

Crockerites Report

Second Grade - Mrs. James Our second grade class has had two field trips this month. Two weeks ago we took a trip to the Golden State Dairy. We learned why it is so important to drink three or four glasses of milk a day. We were all very pleased when we were given fresh ice cream to eat. Most of us had two helpings. Then we took a tour of the dairy and watched ice cream and Eskimo pies being made and packaged.

This week we took a trip to the museum and aquarium at Golden Gate park. We saw many different kinds of fish and reptiles. We especially enjoyed seeing the alligators. The museum had many interesting animals, which had been killed and stuffed and placed in their own natural surroundings. We certainly have enjoyed our field trips, and have written original stories about the things we like best.

Third Grade - Mrs. Lorey The field trip our Third Grade class took on Tuesday, April 24, was a trip we will all remember for a long time.

In our Social Studies, we have been studying all about harbors. Our trip was to our own San Francisco harbor. We saw freighters loading supplies; we saw tug boats guiding ships in and out of the harbor and we saw how cranes get food and machinery in and out of ships. We took a ride on the ferry-boat that goes from San Francisco to Oakland and back, and went under the San Francisco Bay Bridge. We had not realized before how big and high the bridge was. While we were on the ferry we saw a ship going out toward the Golden Gate to the Pacific Ocean. We walked along some of the piers and saw many different kinds of ships from many countries. We found out that our harbor is a very busy and interesting place.

Mrs. Knox, Mrs. Smyser and Mrs. Peterson came with us. We were glad they came and we hope they enjoyed the trip as much as we did.

JEFF CINDERMEN UPSET PALY; NPAL TRIAL MEET SET TODAY

Flushed by an upset win over Palo Alto's powerful track squad last week, the Jefferson high school varsity cindermen carry high hopes into today's (Friday) NPAL trials at Capuchino.

The Indians, who finished second behind San Mateo in the NPAL dual meet season, bested the Vikings, 60½-51½, last week on the Jeff oval. The Paly thirties won, 64½-46½, but the Indian twenties prevailed, 52-16.

Strength in the sprints and field events enabled coach Ernie Ribera's spikemen to offset Viking overall depth. The Jeffs nabbed first place in nine of the 13 events, but Palo Alto depth kept the meet in doubt until the final relay which Jefferson won.

A double victory by Jim Honeywell highlighted the varsity win. Honeywell was clocked in 10.2 in grabbing the 100, and won the 440 in :53.7.

Other varsity winners were Lowell Klaisner, 220, :22.7; Don Weisner, 120 high hurdles, :15.7; Jerry Howard, broad jump, 19' 1"; Bill Curtis, high jump, 5' 10"; Al Arneson, pole vault, 11 feet; and Jim Farley, discus, 122' 4¾".

Harvey Marston annexed his specialties, the low hurdles and broad jump, to pace the twenties' triumph. He was clocked in :15.3 over the lows, and leaped 16' 7". Other twenties winners were Andy Sealese, 75, :08.8; Howard Marton, 150, :17; Gordon Tydingco, high jump, 5 feet; Dean, shot put, 42' 3"; and the 440 relay, :50.7.

A double win by Sonny Martinez was not enough to prevent the Indian thirties from losing. Martinez won the 150 in :15.3 and the 330 in :37.4.

Dave Harris, who won the discus with a toss of 104' 8¾", and Moss, who tied for first in the pole vault at 9 feet, were the only other first places for the thirties, who counted most of their points on seconds.

The Jeffs who qualify in the NPAL trials today will compete in the PAL meet next Friday at Fremont of Sunnyvale.

Giammona To Head Physical Education Staff At Westmoor

Tony Giammona, 130's basketball and frosh-soph football coach at Jefferson high school for four years, has been selected to head the five-man boys physical education department at Westmoor high school in the fall, it was announced this week by Glenn South, Westmoor principal.

As is the custom, Giammona was elected head by his fellow members on the new staff. They are Byron Van Alstyne, Ernest Ribera and Rod Lossburger, all of Jefferson, and Frank Meyer of South San Francisco high school. Giammona, a graduate of Michigan State and San Jose State colleges, will coach varsity and 130's basketball and assist with frosh football at Westmoor. His frosh-soph gridders took championship last season.

Van Alstyne, a two-year letter winning cager at USC, piloted the frosh baseball team to the title in 1955 and also handled the lightweight cagers. He will coach these sports at Westmoor.

Ribera, a track letterman while at San Jose State, has coached varsity track, cross country and frosh football at Jeff for five years. He will handle varsity track and cross country at Westmoor.

Lossburger coached the Jeff swimmers to the dual meet title this year, and also handled frosh football. He will be frosh football and assistant baseball coach at Westmoor.

Meyer coached track and wrestling and was assistant football coach at South San Francisco for the past two years, after putting in time as frosh grid coach at the University of Colorado. He was a football and baseball letterman at the University of Nebraska.

Mrs. Beverly Raab and Barbara Bosio will handle girls physical education at Westmoor. Mrs. Raab, a graduate of the University of California, has been a

Jeff Back In Title Picture; Plays Carlmont Nine Today

Jefferson high school's varsity nine, back in the red hot NPAL race after a win over league-leading Capuchino Tuesday, meets Carlmont today (Friday) at 3:15 p.m. on the Jeff diamond in the first of three important league contests remaining.

After sliding from first to third with three straight league losses, the Indians put on the brakes with an 11-4 win over Hillsdale there Friday. Tuesday they subdued Cap, 6-5, and Wednesday they won their third straight, 3-2, over Santa Rosa in an extra-inning practice game.

Jefferson now has a 6-3 league record, while Cap and South San Francisco are 7-3. Although Carlmont upset them, 9-4, in a non-league game earlier, the Indians rule the favorite over their foes, who have a 4-4 league mark.

Tuesday's game at Capuchino was a do-or-die effort for Jeff. A loss would have all but eliminated them from the title picture.

Ray Vuillemainroy scattered nine Cap hits and yielded only one earned run in scoring his third league win against two losses.

With Jeff leading, 2-0, going into the fourth, Ino Patron singled across Vuillemainroy and Bob Grubb, who had also hit safely, to double the count.

Cap got the two back in the fifth, but Jeff came right back in the sixth to tally runs five and six when Tom Cloutier singled with the bases loaded.

In all, the Indians batted out 13 hits. Grubb led with three for three, including two doubles. Bill Strassburger, Barrie Hasman and Cloutier each collected two hits.

Although the Indians collected only six hits against Hillsdale, they used 18 walks to advantage in rolling to an easy victory. They scored all their runs in the second and third innings.

Ed Leveroni limited the Knights to three hits in getting credit for the win. He was a bit wild, too, issuing nine walks. Patron was the top hitter for Jeff with two for two.

Leveroni also got the win at Santa Rosa Wednesday. He had no-hitter going for six innings and fanned nine.

Tex Prentice doubled Bob Bailey, who had walked, home in the first extra inning to give Jeff the win. The Indians led all the way until Santa Rosa erupted for two in the last of the seventh.

A sacrifice fly with the bases loaded by Patron gave the Jeffs a 1-0 lead in the second inning. The Indians picked up another in the third when Leveroni singled in field with the bases loaded again.

Jefferson winds up league play next week. Tuesday the Indians make up a rained out game against Carlmont on the Knights' field and Wednesday they travel to South San Francisco for a crucial final NPAL tilt.

NAMES APLENTY

Beat Drums For C Of C Golf Tourney

Competitors in the second annual Daly City Chamber of Commerce golf tournament at Lake Merced May 24 will get plenty of chance to rub elbows with 'names,' according to Peter J. Markovich, C of C secretary.

Markovich said among those who have already promised to appear in the local golfing doings are Ken Venturi of Daly City, three time SF city champ and more recently runner-up in the Masters; Bob Silvestri, another localite, and former city and state champion; Ed Castagnetto, three-time city title-holder and former Northern California champ. George Studinger, another city title holder, and Einar Hanson, noted local swinger.

The C of C exec said this list was "only a starter," adding that, "At least another hundred name golfers as well as hackers will be seeing action."

Drums are now being thumped for ticket sales. The ducats are going at $10 each, which includes dinner and green fees. Some 70 odd-prizes will be awarded at the conclusion of the one-day tourney. Castagnetto is defending champ finishing with a gross 68 last year, while low net was Hanson. Both, however, are expected to have their work cut out in defending their crowns.

Play will be held in three flights. Tickets are available at the following locations: Kennedy Electric, 6235 Mission; Wm. Sweeney & Sons, 6800 Mission; Mission Bell Motel, 6843 Mission; Shannon Hardware, 6370 Mission; and Markovich's office, 6454 Mission.
